NNCC’s arm of technical assistance and consultation, Community Health Partners for Sustainability, is presenting a series of workshops and seminars in partnership with U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Resources Services Administration (HRSA), designed to grow and sustain health centers across the nation.

Session topics include updates from development of patient-centered medical/health care homes, market opportunities under health care reform such as Accountable Care Organizations, Health Information Exchanges, Electronic Health Record implementation, and other topics. All NNCC conference attendees are strongly encouraged to attend this HRSA-supported event. Separate registration is required. For NNCC conference participants staying for the CHPFS conference, NNCC will present in-depth seminars exclusive for NNCC Conference attendees on the following topics:

10:15 – 11:45 AM
Texas Ballroom A
Nurse Managed Wellness Centers: The World’s Best Kept Secret!
This panel presentation will discuss the concept of a “nurse-dose” as related to nurse-managed wellness centers as well as frequently encountered challenges related to outcomes measurements and sustainability. The panel will also share strategies to address these challenges as well as how these wellness centers are in a unique position to be a key component of Health Care Reform. Contributors include: Mary Ellen Miller, PhD, RN; Esther Levine Brill, PhD, ANP-BC; Maureen E. Leonardo, MN, CRNP, CNE, FNP-BC; Lenore K. Resick, PhD, CRNP, FNP-BC, FAANP

12:45 – 2:15 PM
Implementing Quality and Safety Standards for Nurse-Managed Health Clinics
Recognizing the increased pressure across the health care sector for industry standards, NNCC engaged its membership over the past two years to develop a set of standards that will ensure Nurse-Managed Health Clinics’ place as critical access points under health care reform. Kathryn Fiandt, PhD, co-chair of this process, will present the standards and discuss what they mean for attendees’ practices.

Friday, March 18, 2011

NNCC’s technical assistance and consultation event, held by Community Health Partners for Sustainability will continue with sessions addressing health information technology adoption, meaningful use, and health information sharing, as well as further discussion of fostering innovation through partnership and other topics.
